

Where to go, what to buy. By Helen Racanelli think green!

green rooms

Oakville, Ont., 88 Dunn St., Unit 1, 905-337-3373; greenrooms.ca

Brothers Dressler's Onedge bent-plywood chair, $1,500, and ottoman, $700. Expandable Merge coffee table, $1,800

Store co-owner Jackie Crawford

it's easy going green

Store owners Jackie Crawford (pictured) and Alisa Kinkaid have handily discredited the notion that green decor only means fabrics in oatmeal hues and bamboo furniture. The business partners' first retail venture is the sweet new eco-chic boutique Green Rooms in Oakville, Ont., which is all about delish dishware, iconic eco design, and nontoxic, sustainable furnishings that are – behold! – cheery and bright.

Daniel Michalik's cork stool, $490

corner shop

Former STYLE AT HOME senior editor Yuki Hayashi urged us to visit Green Rooms. "It's the cutest little corner shop, with very interesting things," she says of the former tea room. "So check it out if you're in the area!" We did, and loved the colourful bamboo bowls in 10 colours, from $14 each, swell wool felt pillows, from $48 each, and the all-plant "living" wall.

store faves

Jackie loves the Stefani terra-cotta water purifier from Brazil, $100, and the Sustainable Interiors hemp shower curtain, $100. Yuki was thrilled to find the Brent Comber alder-branch side table, $1,100, she'd been pining for. Our fave pick? The Common Chair by Covello Reesor, $525, made from strips of scrap hardwood and based on a historical furniture design.

Peter Danko's Greenbelt Tandem bench made from seat belts and beech, $990. Looolo Janthur's organic wool pillow, $190

PHOTOGRAPHY BY ROBIN STUBBERT